CORPORATE LOGO

Usage Policy

One of the most valued assets a company has is its logo. It provides a visual representation of the company and symbolizes a company's brand whenever it is used. The Silicon Bay Partners logo is recognized as a mark of quality. The corporate logo usage policy was established to ensure that our logo is used consistently in all communications.

The corporate logo affords a means to promote the company and its brand and to gain instant recognition for its products, services, published materials, and people. As such, managing our logo includes ensuring that Silicon Bay Partners employees, as well as others outside the company, use it correctly and with the required permission, as outlined in the following pages.

Start with our Master Logo

All uses of the Silicon Bay Partners logo (and related product line logos) must be reproductions of the design, traceable to the master logo. Those uses include photos, drawings, and line art — for use in print and on the internet.

Variations, such as handcrafted or cut-and-paste modifications of our logo, are not permitted.

Anyone interested in using the Silicon Bay Partners logo for another company's promotions (in printed material or on a website, for example) must obtain prior written permission from Silicon Bay Partners. Usage of the logo by customers, resellers, or other companies is subject to review before production.
